Make a Difference!

Sustainable fashion – or “eco-fashion” – is a growing trend which aims to minimize the negative environmental, social & health impacts of the fashion industry.

From the use of environmentally-sensitive fabrics to the avoidance of toxic chemicals to the assurance that workers are paid fair wages, designers across the fashion spectrum are finding ways to incorporate sustainability into the design process.

By demanding eco-friendly fashion options from your favorite retailers, you can support the work & agenda of sustainable designers everywhere.
